

To the Journal of the College of Education for Women

Author's Contribution Statement

The contribution of each author in the manuscript submitted to the “College of Education for Women Journal” must be specified inside the manuscript itself. The author(s) need to use(s) their initials to explain his/her/their contribution (RH Al-Bahrani did the theoretical background and BA Al-Rawi did the applied part of the study). Each authorship is expected to make a substantial contribution to part of the manuscript (henceforth MS) from the conception of the research to its final submission process. All authors are required to read the manuscript carefully and approve the final version of their MS.

Authorship Contribution Statement

Title of the Manuscript:

The authorship of the title above certifies that the author(s) has/have participated in different roles as follows: (Kindly indicate the contribution, and the author(s) listed in the MS must have played at least one of the following roles: Introduction, literature review, methodology of the study, data analysis, findings and conclusions, references, drafting the MS, revising it, and proofreading it).

Author's name, role, and signature):

(Author's name, role, and signature):

(Author's name, role, and signature):